Fired at 63, Nearly Broke
Safely a Millionaire by 69

Age-Defying Financial Freedom

DAVID NASSIEF

"They whispered I was finished when I got fired at 63 — just two years from being broke. But I wasn't done yet."

I thought I'd done everything right. But after 18 years, being fired showed me the harsh truth: even if I drained all of my savings and retirement, I'd be broke by 65.

So out of necessity, I built a simple One-Page Wealth Compass — and it worked.

Inside, you'll discover:

- How a janitor with only a high school diploma and a modest paycheck retired with over $8 million, while one of four doctors, many earning $M as much, end up with only six figures.
- The 7-Step Wealth Accelerator that turned a tiny nest egg into seven figures, achieving in under six years what most take 30 years or more.
- The average NBA player earns $10 million a year, yet 60% go broke within five years of retirement. Meanwhile, a basketball-loving carpenter quietly became a multimillionaire on an average income. How does this happen?
- Ordinary employees can build more wealth than many business owners—without the stress, risk, or 80-hour weeks.
- Set-It-and-Forget-It Wealth: Why doing nothing beat every strategy I tried in 40 years.

Getting fired at 63 was the worst day of my life — until it became the best. 38 years later, I had the financial freedom I spent 40 years chasing. — the compass that got me there is yours.

I thought I'd done everything right. But after 18 years, being fired showed me the harsh truth: even if I drained all of my savings and retirement, I'd be broke by 65.

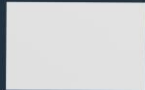

So out of necessity, I built a simple One-Page Wealth Compass — and it worked.

Inside, you'll discover:

- How a janitor with only a high school diploma and a modest paycheck retired with over $8 million, while one in four doctors, many earning 10X as much, end up with only six figures.
- The 7-Step Wealth Accelerator that turned a tiny nest egg into seven figures, achieving in under six years what most take 30 years or more.
- The average NBA player earns $10 million a year, yet 60% go broke within five years of retirement. Meanwhile, a basketball-loving carpenter quietly became a multimillionaire on an average income. How does this happen?
- Ordinary employees can build more wealth than many business owners—without the stress, risk, or 80-hour weeks.
- Set-It-and-Forget-It Wealth: Why doing nothing beat every strategy I tried for 40 years.

Getting fired at 63 was the worst day of my life — until it became the best. Six years later, I had the financial freedom I spent 40 years chasing. Now, the compass that got me there is yours.
